Summer Reading Challenge – Coming soon!

Get ready for 'Ready, Set, Read!'

This summer, we'll be taking part in the Reading Agency's Summer Reading Challenge, offering reading rewards for children to keep up their reading over the holidays. Children are challenged to read 6 books during the school holidays to receive a medal and a certificate, and collect stickers along the way.

The Reading Agency have partnered with the Youth Sport Trust this year for 'Ready, Set, Read!', a Summer Reading Challenge focused on reading, sport and play.

Audiobooks for the visually impaired

Reading is for everyone, and libraries stock hundreds of audiobooks which are FREE to borrow for those with visual impairments. For those who can't visit the library themselves due to age or health, we can even deliver! Just call us or chat to library staff if you'd like to join our 'Library To You' scheme: someone will call to chat about what books you like, then a volunteer will deliver you a bag of books every month. It's easy to join and free of charge.

We also have an audiobook reading group called Sound Reads, and you don't have to be visually impaired to join! They get a pack of audiobooks delivered each month to listen to and chat about – but they're very social and don't just talk about books. If you'd like to join them or would like any more information, contact Margaret on 07903656893 or margaret@nab.org.uk. Sound Reads meet on the last Wednesday of every month.
